BRIAN HASTINGS approached the Board concerning problems he has found with electrical systems in several older houses in Sterling with people living in them. The Board suggested that he talk to the code enforcement office for the City of Sterling. George Good is Public Works Director. Mr. Hastings said most people don't have the money to fix the problems. The Board suggested they contact Cooperative Ministries or the Family Resource Center. Mr. Hastings also asked for help paying for a report from the Assessor's Office on houses 100 or 90 years old or older. The report costs $50. The Board suggested a search of the Assessor's Office website logancountycoaat.com
