Election Information:

Know the Facts for Colorado!

Rules for determining residence for voting purposes:

Your residential address determines what you are eligible to vote on for elections.

- If your residential address is the City limits of Sterling, you would be eligible to vote for the City of Sterling candidates and questions.
- If your residential address is outside of the City of Sterling, you would not be eligible to vote for the City of Sterling candidates or questions.

C.R.S. 1-2-102 (1) (a) The residence of a person is the principal or primary home or place of abode of a person. A principal or primary home or place of abode is that home or place in which a person's habitation is fixed and to which that person, whenever absent has the present intention of returning after a departure or absence, regardless of the duration of the absence. You must have a residential address to register to vote. Once you establish a residence, it exists until you establish a new residence elsewhere and notify the election division of that change.

A residence is a permanent building or part of a building and may include a house, condominium, apartment, room in a house, or mobile home.

No vacant lot or business address shall be considered a residence.

A mail service business cannot be used for a residence address. A mail service business can ONLY be used for a mailing address.

(II) (c) The residence given for voting purposes shall be the same as the residence given for motor vehicle registration and for state income tax purposes.

Note: For voter registration, you may not have more than one residence.

Can a post office box be used, or a mail service box be used as a mailing address for voter registration purposes?

- Yes. Post office boxes and mail service boxes are ONLY acceptable as mailing addresses. Meaning, that if a homeless voter uses a physical location that does not have a mailing address (such as a park), he/she may provide a post office as a mailing address.
- Post office boxes are NEVER acceptable for residence purposes.
- Mail Service Boxes are NEVER acceptable as a residence purpose.
